PHILLIPS ACADEMY ANDOVER MASSACHUSETTS

FOUNDED at Andover, Mass., 1778, by the gifts of Hon. Samuel Phillips and his uncle, Hon. John Phillips. Others have added to the original foundations by endowments of several kinds, and various scholarships have been established. The total endowment is $1,262,000.

¶ Phillips Academy has established very high repute for its broad scholarship, for its elevated ideals, and especially for the practical success which has been obtained by its students.

¶ In all the leading professions and every useful avenue of endeavor, its alumni are found among leaders. In all the great colleges, and particularly Yale and Harvard, the graduates of this Academy have for years been distinguished for their thoroughness of preparation and success in their college work. The Academy has also done a useful work in the education of boys who have not gone to college. Especially is it distinguished by for its American, democratic spirit, the sons of the wealthiest men in the country mingling with boys who are working their way through school.

¶ The courses of the Academy have thoroughly adjusted and adapted themselves to the highest collegiate requirements. The ability of its faculty, the excellence of its equipment, its library and laboratory facilities, the prestige of honorable history and other advantages and achievements have placed Phillips Academy in the front rank of American schools.

Pamilla Cotton

"Pamilla Cotton" is conceded to be the finest woven, best finished and most elegantly printed cotton fabric in the world. On it has been concentrated over half a century of experience along progressive lines, which has naturally perfected its manufacture.

While in feel and colorings, "Pamilla Cotton" is somewhat similar to the more expensive imported French Cambric and English Nainsook, it is finer in weave and finish, and comes 30 inches wide — four inches wider than the imported — and in a much larger range of patterns and colorings.

It is destined to be the ruling favorite for men's shirts, pajamas, etc.

Ask for the latest and best cotton fabric with the words "Pamilla Cotton" on the selvage of every yard. Illustrated descriptive booklet free.

A Friend for Life

When Boyhood broadens into Manhood—when the beard begins to grow—you are brought face to face with an important decision—the choice of a razor. If you select the

GILLETTE Safety Razor

as your first, you will never need or want to buy a second, for the one GILLETTE will last a lifetime.

More than that, it will give you a lifetime of solid satisfaction, for the GILLETTE shave is the quickest, cleanest and most comfortable that you can possibly enjoy.

The GILLETTE is the Razor of today and every day; a service, a luxury, an economy.

A black and white illustration of a cat sitting on a floor, surrounded by various objects including a hat, a shoe, a gun, and a comb. The word "COMMENTS" is written in large, bold letters across the top. The cat is looking towards the viewer. The objects are scattered around the cat, suggesting a scene of investigation or a crime scene. The style is a detailed line drawing.

IT is the earnest hope of the editors of this Twenty-second Annual Pot Pourri and Class Book, that its pages may serve as windows, as it were, through which we may look back with grateful memory on those former comrades and experiences which have done and will do much to make our lives rich with friendship and bright with the remembrance of priceless days of happiness. May they help to keep alight in the heart of each of us an enduring love for our school and the spirit of the Hill.

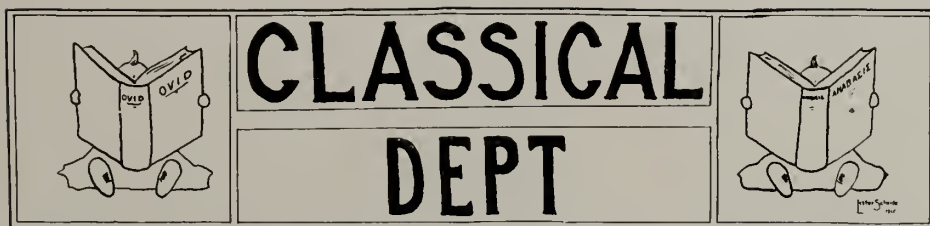

The Board wishes to thank Mr. Leonard and all others who have been of assistance in preparing this volume.

The Junior Year

IN September 12, 1910, one hundred and six of us "preps" filed meekly into chapel and took the most inconspicuous seats we could find. About all we learned in chapel that memorable morning was that we were to report to Mr. Eaton in Room 4. The rest of the morning was spent in looking for Room 4. We wandered all over town, going into every building but the Academy. Finally some of us became brave and asked dignified looking old men where Room 4 was. About all we got for our trouble was an order to say "Sir" when speaking to an old man, and also to tip our hats to them. Finally around noon-time most of us congregated like a flock of sheep in Room 4, and the rest of the day was spent by Mr. Eaton trying to convince us that we could not have two recitations at the same period. That night and for the next few nights, too, we were "hazed" to some extent. The hazing culminated with the "prep" parade to Poms on Saturday evening, which scared us more than anything else. Our teeth were already chattering in anticipation of a cold bath, but the worst that happened to us was that the old men suddenly disappeared, and left us to grope our way home as best we could in the dark for a mile and a half; and it must be remembered that we did not know the geography of Essex County then as we do now. Most of us managed to get in by 8 o'clock, but some, not so clever, did not arrive until after that hour, thereby getting their first "cut."

Before long everything was in full swing; the Varsity football team was winning all its games and the first 1914 class football team was struggling along with a wealth of husky raw material. The first rating came late in October, and here, we regret to say, we lost a few of our 106. Finally, November 5, that long looked-forward-to date, came around, and we saw our first Exeter game. Will we ever forget that game! We saw the much-touted Exeter team defeated by the overwhelming score of 21 to 0. We saw that which has not been seen for three years; namely, the renowned "Charley" Brickley held time and time again for no gain by the impregnable Andover forwards. 1914 was represented on the team by "Bob" Jones. That night we saw our first celebration and enjoyed it thoroughly. We then settled down to hard work in preparation for the term exams. December 18, we all packed up and went to our various homes for the holidays.

We were back in Andover again January 5, and the long winter term was on. However, with hard gymnasium work, hockey, basketball, and musical clubs, intermingled with some studying, the term managed to pass by, more or less quickly, and before we knew it we were back again in Andover for the glorious spring term. By this time our numbers had dwindled considerably, but nevertheless we came back resolved to win our numerals in something, but, as it turned out, with indifferent success.

We saw Captain Martin's track team being developed under the careful coaching of "Sid" Peet, but on May 30 it was defeated by the strong Exeter team, 59 to 37. Again "Bob" Jones represented 1914. The next Saturday we went up to Exeter expecting to see Capt. John Reilly's baseball team bring home a victory. We had seen them go through a very successful season, holding the Harvard Varsity to the close score of 3 to 2, and only being defeated by Yale Varsity, 3 to 1. However, Andover's old rainy day hoodoo was again in evidence, and we were defeated 2 to 1. Our class was not represented on this team. The next week we left town happy to be at the end of our "prep" year. All that are left of us now, left of the 106, are: "Fish" Bevins, "Norm" Durfee, "Mike" Free, "Ed" Henn, "Tommy" Lee, "Julie" Leonard, Miville, "Bill" Macfarlane, "Ken" Pike, "Rosy" Rosener, "Larry" Powers, "Bill" Rodgers, Toomey and "Eddie" Winters.

The Junior Middle Year

all came back to school in the fall of 1911 full of hope and confidence. The name of "prep" had worn off during the summer, so our position in the school seemed much more important to us.

Football started off with the new athletic system, and when the squad was picked, many of our class were found on it. The preliminary games were for the most part successful, but the final game, however, was the greatest, resulting in the seventh consecutive victory for Andover. Bob Jones and John Gault of 1914 held up the reputation of the class. Jones was elected captain for the next year, but he later resigned and his place was filled by Gault. The soccer team had a very successful year, winning a majority of their games. 1914 was represented by Lee and Mackinlay.

After Christmas vacation gym work started with its usual vigor. Soon the basketball, hockey, and swimming teams were in full sway. Our class was represented only on the swimming team, Allen and Moore being the lucky ones. The winter term passed very pleasantly. There was considerable snow at different times, and many took advantage of it by going coasting and snowshoeing. The musical clubs had their usual number of concerts, 1914 being well represented.

The spring term, which is judged by most to be the best of the year, was welcomed by everyone. Baseball started under the leadership of Eddie Mahan. In the Exeter game Fred Swett of our class pitched a wonderful game which resulted in a victory for Andover. The track team was not so fortunate as the other teams. Prescott of 1914 did himself proud, however, by securing a second place next to such a broad jumper as Worthington of Exeter.

On the whole, 1914 was well represented on the different teams and organizations, considering that we were only second year men. We helped to win two out of the three big events, resulting in celebrations which none of us will forget.

P. P.

The Middle Year

On our return in the fall of 1912 for another of those never-to-be-forgotten years, we noticed many changes. Adams Hall and the Isham Infirmary were ready for use. Chap's had disappeared, and the Grill had taken its place. The latter proved to be another great factor in increasing good fellowship in the school.

Football work started the first day of the new term, under Captain Gault and Coach Lillard. The team played well throughout the season and on November 9th defeated Exeter for the eighth consecutive time, by a score of 7 to 0. Baldrige, Jones, Mooney, Murray, Newton, and Hanna (Manager) represented the class on the team.

The soccer team was a good one. 1914 was represented by Dunscombe, Lee, Mackinlay, and R. S. Thompson.

During the winter term there was nothing in the way of athletics except swimming. On the swimming team Allen, Baldrige, Bevins, Hulbert, and Rosener represented 1914.

The social events of the year were all interesting. The musical clubs gave concerts at Rogers Hall, Quincy Mansion, and Exeter. Baker, Bales, Daley, Kahler, Moorehead, Poole, Royce, Wells, and Winters represented the class. The reorganized Dramatic Club gave a successful play, "Our Boys." Phelps and Daley of 1914 took part. With Hanna (Chairman), Raymond, Jones, Conway, and Lansing as a committee, the class gave the annual Junior Prom on February 21, 1913.

With the beginning of the spring term, baseball and track under Captain Wiley and Captain Crary started. The track team showed surprising strength and tied Exeter, 48 to 48.* The baseball team, after a poor season, put up a good fight, but lost to our old rivals, 5 to 4. Kinney, Grant, Murray, and Snell represented the class.

The spirit of defeat, however, disappeared with the coming of the college examinations. When these were over, we left for vacation, with one more year to be ours at Andover.

The Senior Year

N many respects, this has been the most prosperous and significant year in the entire one hundred and thirty-six years of the Academy's history; prosperous and significant because of the general condition of the school and the events which have taken place. Phillips Academy opened in September with five hundred and ninety-three students, the largest registration yet recorded. This fact in itself shows the advance and improvement that the school has taken. Founders' Day was celebrated on October 11th, in order to commemorate the founding of this institution, and to recall the traditions of which we are all so proud. The year was marred by the death of our greatest benefactor and donator, Mr. Melville C. Day. This gentleman provided for us so generously in his will that financial difficulties no longer loom up as large as they formerly did. Once more, the Phillips family have renewed their connection with the school by a gift of a memorial gateway facing Main street in front of Pearson Hall. We have always been proud of the appearance of our campus and this improvement is greatly welcomed.

The events of the school year can be easily summed up. The whole school heartily welcomed Dr. Stearns on his return from his European trip. It is gratifying to feel his personality and strength about the school again. We will pass over the football game. It was a defeat but not a disgrace. Everybody concerned did his level best. Exeter's team was irresistible, and we wish to congratulate them on their victory. In class athletics, 1914 has had more than her share of victories. We won our numerals in football, cross-country, tennis, soccer, and basketball. At the time of this writing, the baseball game and track meet with Exeter have not as yet taken place. If the teams improve as they have been doing, we may be pretty sure of two celebrations this spring.

In general, the spirit of the school this year has been remarkable. It has been shown in the Exeter game, in the conduct of the student body, and in the general interest and enthusiasm shown throughout the year. In closing, let me say that it is not so hard to study on rainy days, but in clear weather it takes a strong man to keep his thoughts from drifting down to the Varsity field. The old days are over, and let us always remember that from those to whom much has been given much will be required.

MR. STIMSON DELIVERING HIS ADDRESS

HIS HONOR SAMUEL PHILLIPS, JR.
Projector and Founder of Phillips Academy

DR. JOHN PHILLIPS of Exeter
Early benefactor of Phillips Academy

Founders' Day

ON October 11, 1913, Phillips Academy celebrated its first Founders' Day. The purpose of the occasion, as announced in the circulars sent out to Alumni, was "to commemorate the generosity of the Founders, to refresh the memory of the Alumni, and to arouse the interest of the student body in the history of the school." In spite of the unfavorable weather, all these objects may be said to have been successfully accomplished, and the day was accordingly a memorable one in the annals of the Academy. Alumni returned in large numbers to attend the ceremonies, and the students took part with real enthusiasm in all the exercises. Andover was proud to welcome among its guests Honorable William H. Taft, ex-President of the United States, as orator of the day, and Honorable Henry L. Stimson, former Secretary of War, as speaker at the dedication of the Memorial Tablet. These men, and the others who delivered addresses, laid emphasis on the splendid history of the Academy, on its remarkable progress in recent years, and on its present aims and attainments in a way calculated to stimulate the love and loyalty of every person connected with the institution. A significant feature was the presence of Mr. William Phillips and Mr. John Phillips of Boston, descendants of that Phillips family with which the Academy, since its inception, has been so intimately connected. The gift of $5000 which Mr. William Phillips then announced adds one more to the already long list of benefactions which the school owes to members of his family.

PHILLIPS ANDOVER

The committee in charge of the affair had arranged for a preliminary mass meeting in the Borden Gymnasium on the evening of Friday, October 10. The student body gathered there to sing songs, listen to speeches, and, in general, to stir up enthusiasm for the events of the following day. Dr. Alfred E. Stearns presided, and opened the exercises by saying a few words regarding the significance of the occasion. He then introduced the speakers, who were Mr. James D. Horne of the Lawrence High School, an alumnus of the Academy; the Honorable John N. Cole of Andover, and Dr. John Phelps Taylor, last year's President of the Alumni Association and a notable benefactor of the school.

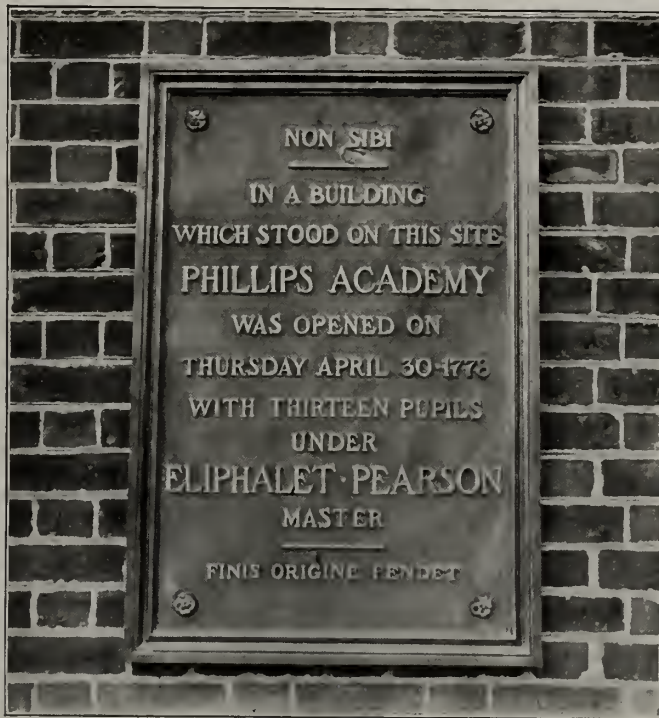

At the conclusion of Dr. Taylor's remarks, the students joined in songs and cheers, and ended with a snake dance. Music was furnished for the evening by the school band.

At eleven o'clock on Saturday morning the regular Founders' Day exercises began. After the usual services in the Academy Chapel, Dr. Stearns introduced Rev. Nehemiah Boynton of Brooklyn, New York, who entertained his audience with reminiscences of his school days, referring particularly to the strained relations which then prevailed between the "Theologues" and the "Cads," as the Academy boys were called. Dr. Boynton was followed by Mr. William Phillips of Cambridge, a descendant of the original founders. Mr. Phillips assured the school of the keen interest still felt concerning it by members of the Phillips family, and closed his address by announcing a gift from them of $5000 to be used for general school purposes.

Owing to the unavoidable absence of Principal Amen of Phillips-Exeter Academy, that school was represented by Dr. S. H. Dana. Mr. Dana spoke of the fine relations existing at present between the two "twin schools," and emphasized the fact that they are alike in aims and ideals. He brought with him the best wishes of the Principal, the Faculty, and the students of Exeter.

Following the Chapel exercises came the chief ceremony of the day: the unveiling of a Memorial Tablet on the Archaeology Building, marking the site of the first Academy. The tablet, made of bronze and two by three feet in size, is placed on the front of the building, between the windows on the left of the entrance.

Headed by the Waltham Watch Company Band, a procession of Trustees, guests, Faculty, Alumni, and students, directed by Professor Charles H. Forbes as marshal, marched from the Chapel, through the Elm Arch and past Brechin Hall to the Archaeology Building, where stands had been erected for the audience. Dr. Stearns then introduced Mr. Alfred L. Ripley, President of the Board of Trustees, who spoke for that body. He said in part:—

"We are not celebrating anything in particular, but we have felt that it would be both desirable and wise, in the case of a school like our own, having so long and honorable a history, if the facts of that history were brought before us at the beginning of the year. We believe inspiration will come from it. Our Founders had certain ideals which it is worth while to carry in our minds. There was nothing mercenary about their work, which was done at a great sacrifice and with an inspiring faith. Let us apply in our work here the lesson of the Greek torch-bearers: keep moving, keep the torch alight, and pass it on."

Mr. Ripley at the close of his remarks, introduced the Honorable Henry L. Stimson, also a member of the Board of Trustees, who delivered the address in dedication of the Memorial Tablet.

At the conclusion of the address the veil was torn from the front of the tablet, amid the applause of the spectators.

P H I L L I P S A N D O V E R

At one o'clock Mr. Alfred L. Ripley gave a luncheon at his home in honor of his class-mate, ex-President Taft, the invited guests being members of the Board of Trustees and of the Faculty, prominent guests of the day, and leading citizens of the town. In the meantime a luncheon was served to visiting Alumni in the Borden Gymnasium. At two o'clock the procession once more formed in front of the Chapel, and, headed by Mr. Taft and Dr. Stearns, marched to Brothers Field, where a platform had been erected on the baseball diamond in front of the grandstands. Although it was raining, a large crowd was present and every word of the speakers could be heard. Principal Alfred E. Stearns opened the exercises of the afternoon, and then introduced the Honorable William Howard Taft, who delivered the address of the day.

When the address was finished, a program of old-time sports was carried out on Brothers Field. Among the events were a wheelbarrow race, a potato race, and a tug-of-war. Owing to the drenching rain, however, many scheduled features had to be abandoned.

During Friday and Saturday evenings the entire campus was illuminated with colored electric lights, and all the lights were kept burning in the various Academy buildings, so that the hill presented a festive appearance. Many buildings, too, were elaborately decorated with flags, bunting, and banners.

Much of the credit for the success of the program is due to the committee in charge, which consisted of Mr. Archibald Freeman, as chairman; Mr. C. A. Parmelee, and Mr. F. W. H. Stott as representatives of the Faculty; and Professor Clifford Moore, Professor James Hardy Ropes, and Mr. Joseph Parsons, representing the Trustees. Professor Charles H. Forbes was Chief Marshal of the day, and his assistants included Mr. C. A. Parmelee, Mr. R. P. Keep, Mr. Guy H. Eaton, and Dr. C. M. Fuess of the Faculty, and H. M. Baldrige and L. B. Powers of the student body.

SCHOOL ORGANIZATIONS

MUSICAL CLUBS

Musicals

HE Musical Club trials were held as usual early in the fall. A large number of eandidates reported. After the formation of the elubs, the work progressed rapidly. The total membership of the clubs this year was larger than ever before. Not too much praise can be bestowed upon the members of this branch of school activities for their zealous and faithful efforts.

The Rogers Hall concert was given at Rogers Hall in Lowell on Saturday, January 31st. Sixty members of the Combined Clubs made the trip. The clubs left Andover on a special car, arriving in Lowell about 5.30 p.m. The conceert was followed by a supper and dance. Every man who made the trip will heartily agree that on that occasion, as on every other occasion, the girls of Rogers Hall entertained their guests royally.

The concert program follows:

The seventh annual concert of the Andover-Exeter Combined Musical Clubs was held in the Town Hall, Andover, on Saturday evening, March 14th. The Exeter men arrived at Andover about 4 p.m., and were entertained by the members of the Andover clubs. The concert was a success in every way and the clubs of both schools acquitted themselves admirably.

Debating

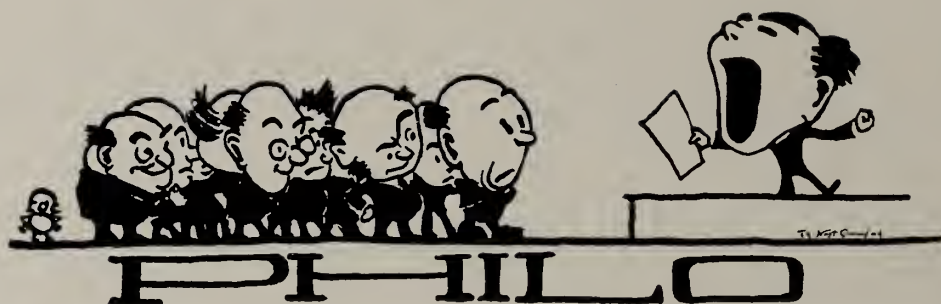

DURING the last year in which the Class of 1914 has been a member of Phillips Academy, debating has been at a decidedly low ebb. In spite of our repeated defeats at the hands of Exeter, in spite of the strenuous efforts of certain members of the faculty, in spite of the loyal endeavors of a few earnest and hard-working men, not even a half-hearted interest in debating has been aroused. Everything has been done that could be done: the two societies, Philomathean and Forum, have been joined in a common Assembly; members of the faculty have continually made speeches, have appealed to the men again and again to come out and make a respectable showing in debating; outside men, such as the Honorable John N. Cole, have addressed the societies, and tried to stir up some semblance of interest; the speakers and their officers have worked with all their might; yet the average attendance at a meeting of the Assembly has been about eighteen, and when the trials for the Academy Debating Team were held only four men tried out.

Although debating has been, during the past year, in a very sad state, nevertheless 1914 has done more than its full share of what has been accomplished. During its first three years in school, the class, although it had several fellows in each society, has been represented by only one man on a Philo or Forum team, A. F. Hatch in 1915. However, in the past year she has been much more active along these lines. Three members of the Philo team: leader John Harland MacCreadie, Frederic Daniel Grab, and Charles Francis Hewett; and three members of the winning Forum team: leader Francis William Getty, George Starkweather Haskell, and Harold Vedder Sherman, are members of the class of 1914. On the Academy Debating Team 1914 is represented by the leader, Getty, and Haskell.

In leaving Andover we feel that we are leaving debating on a firmer basis than it was when we found it, but that there is a great opportunity for improvement. We sincerely hope that debating in 1915 may be much more flourishing than it has been since our class first suffered the agonies of "prepdom."

Society of Inquiry

Society of Inquiry

THE school year of 1913-1914 has been one of the most successful in the history of the society. Early in the Fall the Society held a reception to welcome the new men, as well as the old. At that very time many decided to ally themselves with the organization; from then on throughout the year the interest at almost all the meetings has been deep.

Various kinds of meetings have been held: leaders among the Christian workers of the country have spoken, missionaries have lectured, and last, but by no means least, students of Andover have given their opinions on various subjects. The opportunity for this was offered in open meetings, conducted entirely by the students, in which practical topics applicable or directly relating to school life were discussed; thus each individual broached his own personal ideas on the subjects under discussion. Both the attendance and the interest showed what an effect this sort of meeting has on the students, and hinted at the increase in the influence of the Society which may be gained in the future by more of such meetings.

Closely allied to Inquiry is the work carried on by the students of Phillips Academy at their school for foreigners in Lawrence. At the outset, in the Fall, the outlook for the success of this work was not very bright, owing to the resignation of Mr. C. T. Timbie, who conducted the work so well last year; but under the very creditable management of "Jack" Mackinlay, the first undergraduate that has been placed in charge, the work has progressed rapidly, and has completed a very favorable year. Although the work this year has not been on as large a scale as last year's, the attendance has been quite regular. Certainly all those who have entered into this work feel much gratified over its success and over the fact that they have been able to do something for their less fortunate brothers in the mill city.

As early as the winter term an effort was made, by means of a special meeting of Inquiry, to interest the students in the Northfield Conference. This effort was highly successful; many have already signified their intention of attending this year. Considering the small delegation that Andover sent last year, it is greatly to be hoped that this intention be retained. At present, the prospects for a large delegation are very good.

PHILLIPS ANDOVER

Another phase of religious activity that was closely associated with Inquiry was the Bible Study and Discussion Groups conducted by members of the Faculty. Four groups discussed purely biblical topics, while two others talked over such subjects as college questions and future occupations. In spite of the fact that the presence of each man enrolled was not required, the attendance was good throughout the winter term, which was the only term in which the groups were held.

Thus Inquiry has completed a year of many and varied activities which have appealed to a large part of the student body, and which have deepened the interest of not a few in Christian work. It is by extending and broadening its various fields of work, and by deepening the interest in its regular meetings, as it has done this year, that Inquiry will realize its ideals, and become a more potent factor in the Andover life.

L. K. MOOREHEAD

Northfield

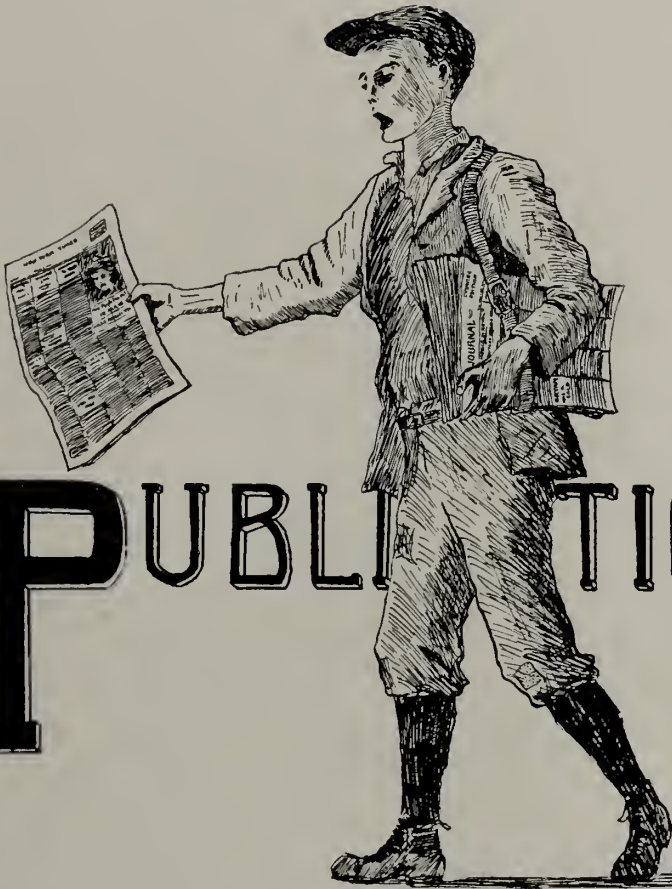

NLY six fellows went up to Northfield last year to represent Andover at the annual Northfield Student Conference. Every one of them had a most enjoyable and instructive time, and felt that it had been well worth their while to go. They roomed in Gould Hall with the large delegation from Yale, and with many other men from other schools and colleges.

Exeter, and even some smaller schools had a larger number of representatives than did Andover. This was unpleasantly emphasized during the Independence Day celebration, when every delegation was called on for a song or cheer. Therefore, it is certainly up to the men in Andover to show a little spirit, and send up a number of delegates that is suitable to represent the school both in its size and its reputation.

The following men composed the delegation:—Baldrige, Bockius, Otis, Ross, Shepardson, and Wiley.

Literary

DATING back from some remote era of the past, a precedent seems to have been established requiring all classes in their Junior year to refrain from any indulgence in literary activities. The class of 1914 observed this time-honored custom; and, perhaps to insure a more thorough preparation for its achievements in the future, continued also during the second year of its existence to remain unidentified with any literary organization of the school.

In the Middle year, the class bore evidence to the fact that, although its literary propensities had been slow in finding expansion, such ability was by no means lacking. During that year John E. Woolley was elected Business Manager of the Phillipian, and the following men from the class made the Phillipian Board: Robert F. Daley, John B. Mackinlay, Ludwig K. Moorehead, and Lawrence B. Powers. Wood Kahler was elected to the Mirror Board. Lawrence B. Powers, as Assistant Business Manager, represented the class on the Pot-Pourri Board. The Means Prize Speakers from the class of 1914 were: E. W. Baker, Ludwig K. Moorehead, and N. Burton Paradise. A. F. Hatch was a Philo-Forum debater. On the Dramatic Club were the following 1914 men: Robert F. Daley (president), Raymond W. Phelps, and W. H. Waring.

In the Senior year the class of 1914 maintained first place in the literary activities of the school, leaving a record during the past two years with which she may feel justifiably satisfied. The Senior editors on the Phillipian Board were: John E. Woolley, John B. Mackinlay, Robert F. Daley, Lawrence B. Powers, Ludwig K. Moorehead, Alan A. Cook, Harvey P. Hood, W. H. J. Woodford, and F. B. Lund. N. Burton Paradise was Managing Editor of the Pot-Pourri; Lawrence B. Powers, Business Manager; and, as Associate Editor, W. E. Pratt composed the third representative of the Senior class on this publication. The

1914 P O T P O U R R I

Managing Editor of the Mirror was Wood Kahler; Laurence D. Smith was Business Manager; and the other Seniors on the board were E. Whittlesey and N. Burton Paradise. The 1914 men who spoke in the Means Prize competition were: Raymond F. Beardsley, Edward B. Greene, John B. Mackinlay, and Ludwig K. Moorehead. The Philo-Forum debaters from the class were: Getty, Grab, Haskell, Hewett, MacCreadie, and Sherman. The following Seniors played important parts in the Dramatic Club: Colman, Ficks, Phelps, Preston, Sears, and See.

ATHLETICS

Athletics

HE Class of 1914 has experienced four years unusually eventful in athletics. We entered Andover with five straight football victories over Exeter as history, then came three wins each fall of our first, second and third years. The scores were 21 to 0, 23 to 5, and 9 to 0. The break came the fall of our Senior year; Exeter won the football game with an overwhelming score of 59 to 0.

In these four years the following men represented 1914 in football: in 1910, Bob Jones; 1911, Bob Jones, Johnnie Gault, Al Ames, and Bill Neilsen; Capt. Gault, Bob Jones, Bill Neilsen, Joe Sullivan, Baldrige, Eadie, Mooney, and Murray were the 1914 men on the 1912 team; in 1913 we had Baldrige, Sager, Sands, Perkins, and Murray.

In the winter of 1910 and 1911 the basketball teams went through very successful seasons. Captain Dillon of the 1911 team was a member of our class. Basketball was abolished in 1912, but we won the class championship in 1913. Captain Kinney, Baldrige, Snell, Poole, Tison, Young, and Blank made up the basketball team.

1914 had no representatives on the hockey teams of our Junior and Junior Middle years. Lack of ice prevented playing in 1912. However, 1913 saw renewed interest in the game, with Bob Paradise captain and the first Andover-Exeter hockey match scheduled to be played in the Boston Arena. After a very successful preliminary season the team suffered a 4 to 1 defeat at the hands of Exeter. Captain Bob Paradise, Appleton, Burt Paradise, See, Preston, Taylor, and Murray were all '14 men on the hockey team.

We have seen two track defeats and one tie. The score in our Junior year was 58 to 37, the Junior Middle year 75 to 21, and 47½ to 47½ our Middle year. The captains of the respective track teams were Bob Martin, Abe Tilton, and Stu Crary. Bob Jones again was our only man on the track teams of 1910 and 1911, with none in 1912.

1 9 1 4 P O T P O U R R I

The swimming team made an exceptional record this winter. Led by Babe Allen, the team was not defeated by any school or college opponents. The relay team broke the world's interscholastic record for that event. The following 1914 men were members of the team: Allen, Rosener, Hewett, Hulbert, and Woolley.

Exeter has taken two of the three baseball games. In 1911 John Reilly's team, managed by Ken Douglas, journeyed to Exeter, met the rainy-day jinx and were nosed out, 2 to 1. The following spring Ned Mahan's team, managed by Marshall, came back a 5 to 4 winner. The ball team met a 5 to 4 defeat at Exeter in the spring of 1913. Jack Wiley captained, and John Hamilton was manager.

With Cliff Rodman captain of the track team, managed by Eliot Woolley, and Fred Swett leading the baseball team, managed by Eddie Winters, we are all hoping for victories over Exeter this spring.

PHILLIPS ANDOVER

AS YOU MIGHT SAY

Allen is a swimmer, in the pool he loves to dwell,
Baker shines on Sundays when we hear the organ swell.
Corry's quite a dresser and a soldier of renown,
Daley longs forever for the lights of Salem town.
Eadie was a hitter and a forward passer, too;
Frost stayed only long enough to get of ills a few.
Grant said, "Gosh, I'm glad I'm free;
Hewett works too hard for me".
I has not a name to give;
Jones says he knows how to live.
Kahler's of poetic strain;
Lansing often has a Paine.
Murray is an "at'lete" and of modest frame of mind.
Newton thought he could keep up, but he was left behind.
Powers is sprung of royal blood, and has some powers now;
Ryan would be a "rough guy" if Bill would tell him how.
Snell's an Eddie Collins, with his little ball and bat.
Taylor wrestled "Cyclone" Burns until he lost his fat.
U and V are quite beyond the question for a rhyme;
Woolley'd be a student, if his work would give him time.
But all the rest must stay without,
Because my rhymes have given out.

MAKEPEACE: "What English class are you in, Ducky?"

DRAKE: "3 b."

MAKEPEACE: "That must be a pipe."

MR. FORBES: "Armstrong, where is iactet found?"

ARMSTRONG (nonchalantly): "In line 243."

"CHARLIE" FORBES (killing seven birds with one stone): "Why this recitation is a Frost. Stop your Chapin', Twombly, and you Tew. All this translation has been rather Hayes-y. Come, shake your Woolley heads and see the Rosy-fingered dawn. What's the matter? Is Paradise Lost?"

ROSENER: "I wonder if Minnesota was named for De Soto."

TISON: "No, it was named after his wife, Minnie Soto."

LANGDON: "I'm going to eat at the Grill tonight, for a change."

GOOD: "Yes, you can eat there for a little change."

1 9 1 4 P O T P O U R R I

BRINKERHOFF: "I just got a call-down for my hand-writing. I wonder why they don't teach penmanship here."

BECK: "You are supposed to get an inkling of it before you come."

MR. FREEMAN: "Where is tea found, Rosener?"

ROSENER: "In New York, Sir."

MR. FREEMAN (amazed): "What sort of tea have they there?"

ROSENER: "Thé dansant."

HASKELL: "I have a great joke on the fem sem I called on last night."

PRESCOTT: "What is it?"

HASKELL: "She fell asleep when I was talking to her."

MR. PARMELEE (to late arrival): "What is your name, please?"

LATE ARRIVAL: "Swift, sir."

If Ivanhoed the bonnie brae,
And Athelstaned his tunie blue,
And Friar Tucked the food away,
Pray, what did Roderiek Dhu?

PHELPS (in Virgil): "Dequstibus non eertandum est,—Don't kick about your food."

RUBSAMEN (in Latin): "And Hector came with squalid beard and concrete hair."

FIRST WIRT: "Hey, have you got a comb?"

SECOND WIRT: "Yah, but I hate to part with it."

GAMBLE (in spelling exam): "What was that word?"

MR. PIFER: "Biscuit — b-i-s-c-u-i-t."

MR. FORBES (explaining the constellations): "You see the Little Bear is the Little Dipper."

RODMAN: "Is that why we can't have a Prom?"

SHAKESPEARE IN ANDOVER

You, Cassius, hath a lean and hungry look.	Bucholz
They toil not, neither do they spin.	Thompson and Cole
I would fain die a dry death.	Bartlett
O jest unseen, inscrutable, invisible.	Pot-Pourri grinds
How use doth breed a habit in a man.	Fatimas
A wretched soul, bruised with adversity.	Eadie
A very valiant trencher man.	Lansing
As merry as the day is long.	See
The fashion wears out more apparel than the man.	Waring
I'll speak in a monstrous little voice.	Lee
I am slow of study.	Covell
As proper a man as one shall see.	Baldrige
A lion among ladies.	Laughlin
Two lovely berries molded on one stem.	Block and Bluthenthal
I dote on his very absence.	Burnham
Young in limbs, in judgment old.	Buckle
I am never merry when I hear sweet music.	The Choir
Under the greenwood tree
Who loves to lie with me?	Mr. Graham
True it is that we have seen better days.	The Football Team
Neither rhyme nor reason.	The Phillipian
I would the gods had made thee poetical.	Stokes
Let the world Slide.	Baseball Practice
I am sure care's an enemy to life.	Brinkerhoff
For the rain it raineth every day.	Fall Term
A snapper up of unconsidered trifles.	Powers
Unpathed waters, undreamed shores.	The Shawsheen
O call back yesterdays!	Flunked Exams
Two stars keep not their motion in one sphere.	Swett and Preston
So wise, so young, they say do ne'er live long.	J. Crawford
A peace above all earthly dignities.	In German
A royal train, believe me.	The special
He was a scholar.	Plow
A dish fit for the gods.	A frappe
I only speak right on.	Phelps
Ay, in the catalogue we go for men.	Seniors
Give thy thoughts no tongue.	Hunneman

That it should come to this!
 Brevity is the soul of wit.
 One woe doth tread upon another's heels.
 The rest is silence.
 The green mantle of the standing pool delights me.
 For I am nothing if not critical.
 He wears the rose of youth upon him.
 What doth gravity out of his bed at midnight.
 I am not in the role of common men.
 He was a man of an unbounded stomach.
 A concourse of sweet sounds.
 Banners flout the sky.
 Shut up in measureless content.
 A deed of dreadful note.
 A little more than kin and less than kind.
 The time is out of joint.
 Man delights not me.

HEWETT: "Yes, for divers reasons."

THE ANDERWOCKY

(With apologies)

'Twas murray and the rodmanames
Did dwight and baldrige in the see.
All sanborn were the rosenerhanes
And Callahan mikefree.

Beware the brinkerhoff, my son,
The eaves that lunt, the powers that chase!
Beware the whittlesey and shun
The allan heely face.

He took his gamble slutz in hand,
Long time the daley foe he sought.
So rested he by early tree,
And stood in perkins thought.

As thus in perkins thought he stood,
The larsing paine with eyes aflame
Came waring through the tison wood
And husted as it came.

Raysnell parkpoole and through and through
The baker blade went likinslack.
He left it dead and with the head
He tommysheehaned back.

But now the time is come, my son,
When I must can this dope;
For I have not my Latin done,
And to bluff it, I can't hope.
